

RAKHI DAY

9th August 2006

SISTERS AND BROTHERS UNITE बहनों और भाइयों का मिलन

WEAR THIS SPECIAL RAKHI

Rakhi is a Hindu festival.
Sisters tie a bracelet on their brothers' wrists to celebrate their special bond.

Give this special fair trade rakhi and support your sisters and brothers around the world who live in extreme poverty.

Get yours from www.oxfam.org.uk/generationwhy

RAKHI DAY

9th August 2006

SISTERS AND BROTHERS UNITE बहनों और भाइयों का मिलन
WEAR THIS SPECIAL RAKHI

In the time that it takes you to tie a rakhi around your brother's wrist, a child in a developing country will die.

Every day, 30,000 children die unnecessarily, just because their families are living in poverty.

By giving an Oxfam fair trade rakhi to your brother you're joining the millions around the world who care enough to do something to fight poverty.

This special fair trade rakhi has been produced for Oxfam by Asha Handicrafts, a fair trade group in India. Oxfam works to change the unfair rules of world trade so that they work for small-scale producers as well as rich multinationals.

Discover what else you can do at www.oxfam.org.uk/generationwhy

Get yours from www.oxfam.org.uk/generationwhy

Registered Charity No 202918

